BOOK OF HOURS (Use of Rouen) with texts by JEHAN QUENTIN and JACQUES LE LIEUR

In Latin and French, illuminated manuscript on parchment
France, Rouen, completed 17 February 1517

274 folios, complete, on parchment, mostly quires of 4 folios (except ff. 1-6, ff. 55-64, ff. 273-274), written in brown ink, on 25 long lines (justification : 39 x 99 mm), ff. 273 and 274 contain 41 lines of text, text copied in an elegant liquid gold frame throughout, ruled in red, rubrics in red and blue, line-fillers composed of liquid-gold branch-like motifs or liquid gold decorative designs on blue or red grounds, small one-line initials in liquid gold on alternately red or blue grounds, 2-line initials in grisaille with white tracery and floral motifs on liquid gold grounds, 4 to 5-line initials in grisaille with white tracery and floral or fruit motifs on liquid gold grounds, 2 HISTORIATED INITIALS, overall in excellent general condition (stains to ff. 1, 135, 273 and 274, small restorations to parchment of ff. 1 to 46). Bound in a nineteenth-century black morocco binding, spine sewn on 5 thongs, title gilt on spine: "Livre d'heures", frame on boards composed of two blind-stamped filets, decorative gilt frieze on inner boards, marble pastedowns, purple cloth bookmark. Dimensions 67 x 138 mm.

Surely copied in Rouen, as indicated by a dated inscription--and confirmed by the style of illumination and the textual content--, this manuscript contains many unusual texts not commonly found in Books of Hours. Among these are two devotional treatises composed by Jehan Quentin, of which very few known printed copies are found in French institutions, and a Chant royal, attributed to Jacques Le Lieur, civic official and Rouennais poet.

PROVENANCE

1. The Hours of the Virgin follow the Use of Rouen. This origin is confirmed by the scribe in the following rubric: Cy ensuyvent les heures Nostre Dame à l'usaige de Rouen au grant possible tout au long sans riens requerit. Avec les antennes et oraisons des saintz et saintes de tout l'an selon l'ordre des moys ainsy qu'ilz eschiessent chacun jour en commançant a janvier. Et *plusieurs oraisons tant en latin qu'en françoys, tant de Dieu que de la Vierge Marie sa benoiste mere.

Et furentachevees d'escrire le jour de la cendre qui fut le xviie jour de fevrier en l'an de grace mil cinq cens xvii [...] (f. 56v).*

TEXT

ff. 1-6v, Calendar in French (red, blue and gold). Many Rouen saints such as Godard, Victrice, Evod and Mellon, confirming the liturgical use of Rouen ;

f. 7, Rhymed verses: "Humble maintien joyeux et asseuré / Langage meur amoureux

Both the chants royaux and the ballades were amongst the preferred verse forms during the poetic Puy organized in the first half of the sixteenth century, such as the famous Puy de Palinods of Rouen (or Puy de la Conception de la Vierge). Jacques Le Lieur was an active participant in these Palinods.

f. 274, Ballade in 3 couplets: "Glorieuse vierge pudicque / Qui par vostre conception..."; envoy : "Dame en vostre commission...";

f. 274v, Ballade in 3 couplets: "Je te supply Vierge pucelle / Celle qui nous rendit la vie..."; envoy: "Dame vueilles estre servie...".

ILLUSTRATION

f. 57, Annunciation : historiated initial, Matins, Hours of the Virgin;

f. 64v, Visitation : historiated initial, Lauds, Hours of the Virgin.

Though tiny in size, these two historiated initials are of fine quality and are similar to illumination localized in Rouen. Compare a Book of Hours, also of oblong format and with similar decoration, (Plummer, 1982, no. 124; New York, Pierpont Morgan Library, M, 646) by an unidentified artist (close to ours) and by an associate of the Master of Petrarch's Triumphs working in Rouen, c. 1510.
